

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2026

QUARTERBACKS — In '24 they added Bryson Barnes (1572, 58.7%, 12-11, 265 rush) from Utah. Barnes started 3 and was solid on the RPO's and was #2 rusher with 530 (7.8) and threw for 856 (61%), 2-62. Last year Barnes (the Pig Farmer) improved and threw for 1,800 (59%, 18-5) and was the leading rusher (740, 3.9). Anthony Grady (PS#980B) transferred in but played WR, hitting 67-85, and he is the only returnee from the room but at WR now. McCaie Hillstead (PS#61) is back and, in '23, he started 4 games here, throwing for 1,062 (59%, 11-8) with 36 rush. He was at BYU the last two years (4-5-33). They also add Grady Brotherus from Virginia and PS#130 & #138 true frosh. Hillstead is a dual threat and should do well, but it will be tough to match Barnes' production.

RUNNING BACKS: Last year they lost their #1 (1109, 5.6) and #2 (405, 5.1) RB's. They added Javen Jacobs (21, 277, 6.9, NMex) and Miles Davis, who had 465 rush yards 4 years at BYU. Davis had 88 rush and 61 receiving in the opener. He had 102 vs Hawaii and 110 vs New Mexico and led the RB's with 731 (5.6). Jacobs was the top RB rusher the last two games and finished with 429 (6.6). True Fresh Noah White added 93 (3.7). This year they lose Davis but add in Sesi Vailahi (PS#146, 251, 3.0 2Y Okla St) and r/r Ravian Lary (PS#170) and Nehemiah Washington (PS#264). They should at least match last year's production.

RECEIVERS—Last year they lost their top 5 receivers and 10 of the top 12. The Utes added 4 transfers but none were full-time starters, so it was a rebuild unit except for TE where both returned. UCLA transfer Braden Pegan had 8-109 vs UNLV and led with 925 (15.4). Anthony Garcia was a backup QB but moved to WR in August and was #4 (348, 17.4), had 10 rushes and hit 67 passes. RB Jacobs was #3. This year they lose Pegan, WR Brady Boyd (12 st, 2, 743, 16.2) and both TE's (10 st #5, #9 rec). Garcia is the lone receiver plus they add 6 transfers (see PSL), but it will be tough to match the Jon two WR's production.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '24, six OL that all started 7+ games returned! As you would expect, the numbers improved to 199 (5.6) rush with just 20 sacks allowed. Last year they went from five returning starters to zero (10 car starts) Mendenhall did wonders at New Mexico with his talent but the numbers dropped some to 162 (4.7%) with the sacks doubling to 42 (10.4%). This year they lose 3 OTs (26/28) but with 3 starters back, they are much more experienced. OT remains a question, but this unit is strong on the interior and will have much improved numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '24 the Aggies had five DL that were OFY and the Aggies allowed 215 (5.4) rush but did have 28 sacks. Last year they had to replace 8 DL (comb 31 sts, 28 sacks, 19 ks). They added two transfers and returned one again. As usual they were underzested at DT but I said the unit could only stay healthier and be improved. They were a little better allowing 111 (4.8) rush with 29 sacks. True fresh from Carthage was #5 tackler. This year they lose 4 DL (23 st, 71 ks, 10 sacks) but have two transfers back, plus add in 5 transfers, so the DL should be a much bigger and stronger unit.

LINEBACKERS - In '24, 23 LBs were OFY and the Aggies had 10 sacks. Last year they had 12 sacks and 10 sacks. This year they lose 4 LBs (23 st, 71 ks, 10 sacks) but have two transfers back, plus add in 5 transfers, so the LB should be a much bigger and stronger unit.

Aggies allowed teams 95 ypg above their average (#129). Last year they lost their #3, 5, 9 and 10 tacklers plus 3 backups (#12, 51, tk1, 2sk). They returned John Miller (#4 tk) and added 3 transfers and I said they could only stay healthy and improve. The D cut it to allowing teams 46 ypg above their average (#117). Chris Joe became the first true LB to start an opener here since 2015. This year, they lose Miller, who emerged as the top defensive player (109 tk, 7.5 sk), but return their #3 and 10 tacklers and are the most experienced overall in a couple of years. Bronson Olevao was HM MW (#3 tk) and Joe returns.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In 24 games with an injury plagued front 7 and inexp. of secondary they finished #120 (68%, 28-13) in my PDR. Last year they lost 4 DB's (#1 killer who combined for 37 starts). They returned FS like Larsen (11 st, #2; 1r, 9 sub) and added a pair of New Mexico starters and looked like the strength of the defense despite losing 3 starters and I said we would move up in the PDR. Larsen was suspended the first 5 games. They still moved back up to #69 (58.8%, 23-10). This year they lose 5 DB (#3 at #4, #6, #13, #15 killer). They return Kevin Hamblin (#2 killer) and D'Angelo Mayes (#10 killr), plus added in 8 transfers including Chapman Lewis (10 st Ttech #24). They could move up some more in the PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In 24 the Aggies were just #100 in ACC title to game in 2019, but left after 2021. In '24 he guided New Mexico to wins, their most in 8 years. He is 140-88 over 18 years as a HC with 14 bowls. New OC is Robert Anae who was Mendenhall's OC at BYU twice (05-'10 & '13-'15) then at Virginia (16-'21). He was OC at Syracuse in '22 and NCST (23-'24). His DC is Nick Howell who was DC at BYU ('13-'15), Virginia (16-'21), Vandy ('22-'23) and New Mexico (24). His 2nd year STC is Shane Hunter, who was STC at New Mexico in '24. Hunter returned to Utah ST after serving as co-DC from '22-'23.

PHIL'S FORECAST

DEFENSE - In '91, my computer called for Utah St to have 3.2pg and they right there with 31.9pg despite the coaching change. QB Petras missed 3 games. Last year, they lost their QB, 1,000 yard RB, 3 top 5 WR's and all five starting OL's. The freshman did a great job, as amazingly they came close to 30pg at 30.3 and only dropped from 46.6 to 40.9 ypg. This year they were 44.4 ypg and 44.4 ypg. QB Petras missed 3 games supporting cast. QB Hillstead started 4 games here in '23. They lost their top 2 rushers and top 2 WR's, but with 3 starting OL back could come close to last years surprising numbers.

DEFENSE - In '24 the D had six season-ending injuries in the front 7 and lost their head coach over the summer! They allowed 37.8pg and 470 ypg. Last year my computer called for them to improve to allowing 44.3 ypg and they did it a little better 44.0 ypg, cutting the pg to 28.7. This year they return 6 OL's and 2 WR's. QB Hillstead will transfer players to the 2-down. My computer was right on last year and it calls for them to allow 36.4 ypg and 31.1 ypg this year.

2026- After a 1-5 finish in '20, new coach Blake Anderson brought his QB, a key WR and top LB with him. Utah State rated 7-0 on my SMI. The Aggies were picked 5th in their division. Reason: Utah St went 8-1 the last 9, beating SDSU in the IW title game and Oregon St in the bowl and finished #24 AP! They had not won five games on the road in a season since 1973, but went a perfect 7-0 on the road! The Aggies went 6-7 the next two years with bowl losses. In '24, they were #18 on my Exp Chart and I thought they could be a surprise team.

On over the summer, Anderson was fired and Nate Dreiling took over as interim. The Aggies were decimated by injuries on both sides of the ball and opened just 1-6 but showed signs of life in the second half of the season. They traveled to Mendocino from New Mexico in '25! Mendocino did remarkable job at New Mexico in his one year there. Utah opened a solid 5-4 but missed 2 FG and an xp including a 49-yd FG game and lost in 2 OT to UNLV. They led the majority the game but lost to Boise by 1 at home for a 6-6 record (4 ypg MW). The Aggies trailed Wash St 34-14 before a late 21-13 in-point bowl game. This year they are a much more competitive team. They have a high ceiling. They are in the new Pac-12. Last year they beat one team that finished with a winning record (Fresno). This year, they have road trips to Washington and Utah on the non-conference slate and have other games vs. teams that had a winning record. A return trip to a bowl game would be an achievement, but Mendocino as outcome my expectations the last 2 years.
